

An article prepared by Lee S. Piatt, a Partner in our Business & Finance Department, appeared in the most recent Times Leader Attorney Showcase. Lee's article, titled "Owner Agreements Post-Pandemic: After the "Great Resignation," Are We Short on Glue?", identifies the difficulties that companies have experienced during the pandemic in retaining employees and minority owners and suggests the use of owner agreements to help address such difficulties.

You can view our firm's ad on page 22 and Lee's article starting on page 20 of the Attorney Showcase here:
