

Congratulations to the United Way of Wyoming Valley on the Launch of Lawyers for Literacy!

Congratulations to the United Way of Wyoming Valley on the launch of its “Lawyers for Literacy” initiative. As part of the initiative, the United Way is teaming up with the local legal community to help at-risk children improve their reading skills. Rosenn Jenkins & Greenwald and many of its attorneys are proud sponsors of the Lawyers for Literacy program.

The Lawyers for Literacy initiative was recently featured in a pair of articles appearing in our local papers, which include quotes from Bill Jones, the President and CEO of the United Way of Wyoming Valley, and our own Paul T. Rushton, the Chair of this year’s United Way Annual Campaign.

To review the Times Leader article about the initiative, visit

<https://www.timesleader.com/news/862855/united-way-of-wyoming-valley-announces-lawyers-for-literacy-program>

To read the Citizens’ Voice feature on the program, visit https://www.citizensvoice.com/news/united-way-lawyers-team-up-to-improve-literacy/article_a66755af-bd1a-52c0-9879-1a3f283e07e1.html?utm_medium=social&utm_source=email&utm_campaign=user-share.

To contribute your time or a donation to the Lawyers for Literacy program, visit www.unitedwaywb.org or call 570-829-6711, ext. 1221.