

Meet Attorney Jack T. Zelinka!

Jack concentrates his practice in Real Estate Litigation, Commercial Law, Construction Law, Municipal & Governmental Law, Corporate Litigation, and Workers' Compensation.

In recent years, Jack's practice has begun to focus heavily in real estate litigation and construction litigation. In real estate actions, Jack has handled many types of cases including eminent domain, title and deed issues, landlord-tenant disputes, tax sales, partition, boundary disputes, easement issues, and adverse possession claims. In construction litigation, Jack represents owners, general contractors, and subcontractors on a large variety of construction projects for private and public bodies.

Previously, Jack served on active duty as a prosecutor in the United States Navy JAG Corps. Since leaving active duty, he continues to serve in the U.S. Navy JAG Corps Reserves and is presently assigned to a unit at the Washington Navy Yard as a Staff Judge Advocate.
