

Meet Attorney Thomas J. MacNeely!

With respect to his creditors' rights practice, Tom has successfully obtained, enforced and executed upon judgments for his clients in a timely, professional and cost-effective manner.

His clients include businesses, banks and lending institutions who are interested in enforcing, protecting and advancing their rights against their debtors. He also represents the interests of creditors' committees in bankruptcy court proceedings. Tom has substantial experience representing such clients on a regular basis in bankruptcy court, federal court and state court actions as well as in appeals before the Third Circuit.

As a creditors' rights attorney, he routinely handles real estate foreclosures on commercial and residential properties and sheriff sale actions. In the real estate taxation area, Tom has successfully appealed the real estate tax assessments for hundreds of clients owning both residential and commercial properties. He has also represented numerous hospitals, universities and other non-profit and charitable organizations in obtaining tax exempt status for their properties. In addition, he has helped numerous clients secure "Clean and Green" approval for their properties before the Board of Assessment Appeals. His efforts have resulted in these clients saving hundreds of thousands of dollars in real estate taxes.
