

Professional Activity Profile: Paul T. Rushton, Member of the Title 15/Business
Associations Committee of the Section on Business Law of the Pennsylvania Bar Association

In the final installment of our Professional Activity Profile series, we recognize the service of Paul T. Rushton, the Chair of our Business & Finance Department, with the Title 15/Business Associations Committee of the Section on Business Law of the Pennsylvania Bar Association (Title 15 Committee).

The Title 15 Committee considers emerging issues in business and finance laws nationally and proposes changes to Pennsylvania's business and finance laws that are aimed at modernizing the provisions of such laws. The changes proposed by the Title 15 Committee are presented to Pennsylvania legislators for consideration for sponsorship and ultimately introduction to the Pennsylvania legislation for enactment.

Paul has served on the Title 15 Committee for several years and is currently serving as the Secretary of the Business Law Section of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.
