

Atty. Rick Russo is again among a very select group of lawyers who have been invited to speak at the Third Annual Trial Advocacy Boot Camp to be held on April 25, 2008. The theme for this year's program - Part 3 of "The Mastery Series Seminars" - is "How Good Lawyers Beat Bad Faith." In addition to gaining winning insights and how-to secrets from some of the leading lawyers in Northeastern Pennsylvania, attendees will receive 6.5 hours of Continuing Legal Education credit.

Atty. Russo is the Chairman of Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald's Plaintiff Personal Injury Practice group, and he devotes his practice to representing injured people and their families.
